

Working with BTA as an Advertising Consultant and now a Regional Manager has afforded me the ability to have a great career as well as maintain my family as my highest priority. Not only has this been a fun way to make a living, but it affords me the time to be able to do things like drop my kids to and from school, coach their sports teams and generally be an active part of their daily lives. Working with the management team is incredible. It's not like working for someone, but rather it's being part of a team and much more, it's like being part of an extended family. When I had a series of health problems in the same stretch of time that my Mother grew ill and passed away, the BTA family was not only supportive, but graciously kept my position in the company for me to return to. I am grateful for the continued opportunity that BTA provides me and couldn't imagine being anywhere else.
